This artwork explores the enduring connections between people, Country and spirit. The thousands of flowing marks represent the many stories, pathways and relationships that have been woven through time. Each mark reflects a journey, a memory and a connection passed through generations.

THE FLOW OF SPIRIT

Size:
100cm x 70cm x 3cm

Medium:
Acrylic on stretched canvas

A story of connection between our ancestors, sky and the gathering places below. Stars representing spirit, ancestors and the timeless knowledge. The energy flows down to country through ceremony and stories, connecting people, place and culture. The artwork links the invisible threads that bind us to our ancestors and our country - we are never truly separate from either.

HOMELANDS

Size:

Galahs cut through the vivid blue skyline as golden rays of light radiate. Depicting the positive influence of family as they move through life together.

INNERWORK (SET OF 5)

Size:
30cm x 40cm x 2cm

Medium:
Acrylic on timber panel

This series of paintings captures the journey of self-discovery and growth. It begins with recognising the need for change and evolves through persistent self-reflection and challenge. As old beliefs are shed, new perspectives, energies and connections emerge.

KOOKABURRA

Size:

30cm x 40cm x 2cm

Medium:

Acrylic on timber panel

Kookaburras are symbols of joy, laughter and family. Their dawn laughing song signals the welcoming of a new day and with it fresh beginnings. They are also seen as messengers and guardians that offer protection and help in healing old wounds through the power of laughter.

TIDES 1-4

Size:
30cm x 40cm x 2cm

Medium:
Acrylic on timber panel

Showcases the serene connection between ocean and shore. The intricate details and patterns evoke the soothing rhythms of the coast. Pippie holes signal the life the shoreline is home to.
